Mangal Exports. A very well-known name in the Indian textile industry. Today we are a leading manufacturer and exporter of fine home furnishings for the quality conscious markets of the West.

But importantly, we are in the line of delivering quality, newness, competitive pricing to wholesalers and retailers. Our services extend to specialized Private Label Program, an area we excel in.

For many of our reputed clients we have been the preferred choice. In fact, a pleasant habit over the years.

Since the 1980s, we've had a full-fledged office & showroom in New Jersey. Because we know, customer relations cannot be built over distance.

We would rather have long lasting relationships with our partners, than quick short-term gains.

This is precisely what we have done. Diligently and persistently.

The result of this approach has taken us where we are today. Not only do we enjoy a global company status, but a creditable share of the market in USA. A rare accomplishment for an Indian textile company.
